SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE For CATARRH. Instantaneous, Economical, Safe, Radical Treatment for One Dollar. Poisonous catarrhal matter filling the nasal passages rots away the membranes, tissues, and cartilages, causing loss of Smell, Taste, and hearing. It is economical and safe. Five bottles (one month's treatment) is sufficient. Price, with improved Inhaler, CATARRHAL SOLVENT, Treatise, and Directions, $1. Sold by druggists. FOR SALE. A Splendid Surgical Operation—Successful Result and Wonderful Recovery. SURGICAL OPERATION.—The operation of lithotomy (removal of stone from the bladder), one of the most severe and critical operations known to the science of surgery, was successfully performed on Tuesday upon Mr. Henry H. Pitts, a merchant of this city, by Dr. David Kennedy. Several friends of the patient witnessed the operation. Mr. Pitts suffered several years from this difficulty, but it was only a week before the operation that he was made aware of the real cause of his complaint. RECOVERY.—Mr. Henry H. Pitts has recovered from the effects incident to the operation, the closing of the wound being completed on the 18th day. His general health is good—better than it has been for years, while he is perfectly free from all those distressing symptoms so characteristic of the disease with which he suffered. Had this and similar cases used Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" in the early stages of the complaint, the formation of stone would have been prevented. "Favorite Remedy" also purifies the blood, cures Constipation of the Bowels, and all those diseases and weaknesses peculiar to Females. This wonderful medicine is now for sale by all our druggists, $1 a bottle. d&wlm nov6

NEWS AND OTHER ITEMS.

The dream of life is dreamed upon too hard a bed.

The pig has succeeded the horse shoe as the fashionable emblem of good luck.

Considering that kind words cost nothing, what a poor stock of them is in the domestic market.

Which is the greater duty—to love our neighbor, or to so behave that our neighbor will love us?

Susan B. Anthony and Mrs. E. Cady Stanton have been at work together all summer on a book that will place man just where he belongs.

A man must be true to his convictions, not only to do his best work, but to do that which shall take hold of the people and abide.

An editor was in prison for libeling a justice of the peace, and when he departed the jailer asked him to give the prison a "puff."

Scotland is a lead of us in the matter of jury reform. When a jury has considered a civil case for three hours, nine, or three-fourths vote, can return a verdict.

Man is not willingly ungenerous. He wants faith and love, because he is not yet himself an elevated being. He cries with sneering scepticism, "Give us a sign," but if the sign appears his eyes glisten, and he offers not mere approval but homage.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas, God has seen fit in His infinite wisdom, and mysterious providence, to move from our midst our beloved sister Ella A. Ware, severing for a time, ties hallowed by endearing associations and true affection. Therefore,

Resolved, By the brothers and sisters of Empire Lodge I. O. of G. T., that while we deeply mourn her, dead, we tenderly cherish her memory, and look forward with faith to a happy reunion in a higher life.

Resolved, That we extend to the relatives in their bereavement, our heartfelt sympathy in their sad hour of affliction, hoping they may be comforted by the thought that what is their loss, is her eternal gain.

Resolved, That these resolutions be placed upon our records, a copy sent to the bereaved family, also to Weekly Courier for publication.

E. Orrington, Nov. 28, 1880.

OBITUARY NOTICE. We regret to announce the death of Mr. A. L. Bolton, well known to many of our citizens as the superintendent of Colonel Holt's sheep business in Elfert and El Paso counties. Mr. Bolton was formerly a resident of Brewer, near Bangor, Maine, where he leaves a wife and two children.

He came here in the spring of 1875 for relief from asthma, and during the past four years has been the successful manager of one of the largest sheep ranches in the State. Among the stock growers of this and the adjoining counties no man was probably better known or more uniformly respected than Mr. Bolton. He was a man of high character and blameless life, and of the most strict integrity and conscientious fidelity in all his relations. His genial disposition and uniform courtesy endeared him to a large circle of acquaintances. He returned only a few weeks ago from a visit to his family in Maine, which he contemplated bringing here next spring. His death took place at the home ranch of Russel Gates, Esq., where he had stopped for rest and medical aid on his way to town.—Colorado Springs Gazette.

A CURIOUS DISCOVERY.

Moses Hasbrock and a party of fishermen had been casting their nets in Pyramid Lake, Nev., for several weeks, when about the middle of last month they moved up the shore seeking better waters. As it was cool during the first night at their new camp two large fires were lighted. The burning wood cast up flowers of spar, so that the men did not notice anything out of the way and dropped off to sleep one by one. Somewhere near two o'clock in the morning the members of the party were aroused by a dazzling light around them. In a moment it was seen that the light came from hundreds of jets of flame from five to twelve feet in height all around the camp. The sparks had lighted a great number of gas wells. The gas was found so rich in oil as never, and seemed in no way different from such holes usually seen on the deserts. The gas jets shot up with a good deal of force and made a sort of cracking noise. The upper par of the jets presented a yellowish appearance and were from one to three feet in width, while down toward the ground, where the jets were narrow, the flames passed to a yellow or a greenish blue. The party left the jets burning when they broke up camp the next morning. Subsequently they told a Piute Indian of the discovery. The red man exhibited no surprise as what he saw, but, lighting a stick, he went some rods farther up the valley and touched off a dozen or more jets that were fed from holes upon and around a little hillock.

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

Some of the mills in Lewiston run part of their machinery, evenings, last week, to get up with their orders.

Several of the Auburn shoe factories haven't finished filling their fall orders yet.

A large number of dressed lambs and sheep are shipped daily, from Lewiston, to Messrs. Burnham & Morrill's canning factory in Portland.

The doctors report that cases of acute sore throat and bronchial troubles of various kinds, have been numerous in Lewiston and Auburn, since the cold snap snapped.

Mr. Daniel Garcelon of this city, died Friday evening, at the residence of his son on Blake Street. Mr. G. was one of our oldest citizens, was born in Lewiston, and was about 80 years of age. Mr. G. has always been a farmer. He was a good citizen, highly respected throughout the city.—Journal.

Of lumbering on the Androscoggin River, the Lewiston Journal remarks: "The river drivers, with about six million logs, were about ten miles above Lewiston when the bottom fell out of the thermometer. Old Jack was relentless, and just as the drive was reaching port after a long summer's fight against all kinds of bad luck, the Androscoggin solidified, and they were stuck—probably for the winter. Some of the drivers have gone home, some are in the city, and some have started for the woods. The lumbermen do not hardly hope for a thaw, and are discussing what to do with the logs. There is a good chance, the drivers say, to cut out and pile two or three million. If the ice happens to go out on a high flood next spring, the six million logs will be likely to hurry down to sea."

Cumberland.

The Sunday Times says Mr. James White, at his shoddy factory on Portland Pier, now runs a three story brick building and a four story wooden block, for his increasing trade, employs sixty girls, besides a number of men, and his pay-roll amounts to $1,800 per month. Over one hundred and fifty kinds of shoddy are manufactured at his factory.

A stereoscope on a table at Mr. Buxton's in Gorham, concentrated the sun upon its lenses, setting the books and magazines on fire and badly charring the table.

The Veteran Cumberland Club are talking of celebrating the nineteenth anniversary of the erection of Portland Head Light, January 10th.

A man living at the Cape applied kerosene to a frozen copper lamp to his stiff finger joints and the result was that two fingers burst open and had to be amputated.

A boy named Mitsman had a hand badly cut while chopping wood at Naccarappa, a few days since.

The old canal basin, at Portland, is being cleaned out and otherwise put in such a condition that ice may be cut there the coming season.

Kennebec.

Saturday afternoon, about one o'clock, George Varney, aged nineteen, son of Isaac Varney, Esq., of Manchester, in company with another boy, Harry Weston, went on Lake Cobbosseecontee to skate. The day was beautiful, and the ice smooth and tempting. They ventured out farther, until they were half a mile from Hammond's grove and one-fourth that distance from Long Point. All at once the weak ice cracked ominously, and a moment later young Varney, who was ahead, plunged through into the ice cold water. He uttered a wild shriek as the waves passed over him. He was a good swimmer, and managed to keep at the surface while his companion sped to the shore for help. Weston had time to go twice to the edge, chop the pond and procure rails to shove out to his drowning comrade. The boy's sufferings in the frigid water were excruciating. He was so benumbed with the cold that his palsied hands could not grasp the proffered aid, and he sank for the last time just as help was nigh. The body was recovered a few hours later in thirty feet of water.—Augusta Journal.

"Your little birdie has been very sick," she wrote to the young man. "It was some sort of nervous trouble, and the doctors said I should have perfect rest, and quiet, and that I must think of nothing, about nothing, and all the time, dear George, I thought constantly of you." The young man read it over and then read it through again very slowly, and put it in his pocket and went out under the silent stars and kept thinking and thinking and thinking. But he didn't say anything. He only kept thinking.

"My offspring," said a New Yorker, as he took his son by the hand the other day as the boy was about to go out into the wide world to seek his fortune, "I have a little money and a little advice to give you." The son ducked his head in submission, and the old man worked a tear into his left eye and continued: "Never sell short on a sure thing; buy no futures for cold weather delivery; bear no market where there is no short gun at the other end; bull nothing you can steal, and never advance any margins on a girl that walks flat footed. Go, now, and my first margin blessings will accompany you and prove a syndicate of strength to help you onward."—Wall Street News.

Wig and Democrat.

BOUTELLE & BURR, PROPRIETORS.

C. A. BOUTELLE, EDITOR.

All business letters should be addressed to Boutelle & Burr, and communications intended for publication should be addressed: "Editor of Wig and Democrat."

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 1, 1880.

A DISGUSTED DEMOCRAT.

In The Knoxville Chronicle of last Wednesday is published a letter to the Editor from Captain George Washington, who was chairman of the last Democratic State Convention of Tennessee. During the recent campaign, Captain Washington made a number of speeches in support of the Democratic ticket, but he now arraigns the Democratic party in severe terms. Some passages from the letter may be of interest as an evidence that many intelligent thinking men in Tennessee, who have hitherto followed wherever Bourbon leaders pointed the way, are determined to do so no longer. Captain Washington writes as follows:

One thing, however, is certain. If Democracy is desirous of a future, it must turn over a new leaf. It must unload the dreary and unprofitable traditions of dead eras, and take aboard a few ideas. * * * There are thirty-eight States in the Union, and there will be fifty, perhaps. For all National purposes, under the Constitution, this is a Nation, and with a big N. * * * We have just witnessed a by-campaign in which no Democratic orator assigned a solitary substantial reason why there should be a change just at this juncture. But, instead, we beheld a once great party crawling over the Continent on its belly, disfiguring private property with a 329 brand, and only stopping long enough, in a semi-occasional way, to catch its breath and howl "centralization." * * * Heretofore, Democracy has been the very paragon of inconsistency. Its platforms constitute the most variegated piece of mosaic in the history of politics. It has achieved its own defeat. Let it banish expedients and plant itself upon the ramparts of principle. Then if it do so down it will not be in ignominy. Until it does this, it is effrontery for it to ask the American people to restore it to power.

GARFIELD AND BLAINE.

"Webb" telegraphs to the Boston Journal: "An intimate friend of the President elect says that Senator Blaine came to Washington at the special request of Garfield for a confidential conference. They breakfasted together at the latter's house. There is little doubt that at this interview Gen. Garfield tendered to Senator Blaine first the position of Secretary of State; second, that of Secretary of the Treasury, both of which Mr. Blaine declined."

Such a tender of recognition by the President-elect is honorable to both the distinguished statesmen, but the legions of Senator Blaine's friends throughout the country would not care to see him in any subordinate place in any administration. His genius and influence find a broader national field on the floor of the Senate than they could in any bureau office, and as a Republican leader there he will be able to render more valuable service to the country, the party and the Administration of his friend General Garfield.

THE MISSISSIPPI FRAUDS.

[From the N. Y. Tribune.]

Mr. Lynch is not waiting for Congress to investigate the frauds in the "Shoestring District." With a courage which does him great credit he has taken the matter into the United States Court, and has caused the arrest of the County Commissioners of Warren County, who, acting as a Canvassing Board, threw out 2,029 votes cast and duly returned for him, on the pretext that there were distinguishing marks upon them and that they were illegal under the State statute. The "distinguishing marks" were four ordinary printer's dash-lines separating the different portions of the ticket. The tickets were received and counted by the poll judges, whose duty it is to reject illegal ballots; but when it was found that, in spite of the frauds practised in other counties of the District, Mr. Lynch had a considerable majority, the friends of General Chalmers saw that something had to be done. So the Warren County Commissioners, all strong partisans and personal associates of Chalmers, committed this impudent and glaring crime against the suffrage. Their performance is so exceptionally villanous, even for a State where trickery at elections is a common occurrence, that the Vicksburg Herald cries out against it. "What do you think of it?" asks the Herald of its readers. "Do you know that these are not 'distinguishing marks,' not 'devices' but that they are only used in place of stops? Cut out one of these tickets, fold it up, and see if you can see this outrageous distinguishing mark. The work done yesterday is an outrage on fair play, a violation of the law, a breach of the Democratic platform; and, unless it is denounced and disowned, will return to plague this community." This is plain talk even for a newspaper with the Herald's reputation for manliness and independence, but it is not extravagant. It barely meets the case. The Warren County Commissioners will go to jail if they get their deserts. Their offence is plainly defined by Section 5,515 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, and is punishable by "a fine of not "more than, one thousand dollars; or by "imprisonment for not more than one "year, or by both." The statement recently published in Northern Democratic papers that the cases of most of them have been dismissed by the Federal Court is untrue. Their trial is set down for December 1.

Whatever becomes of his friends, the Warren County Commissioners, General Chalmers will not long hold a seat in the next Congress. The quiet, intelligent, courageous colored man, whom he robbed of the seat four years ago by dragooning the district with rifle clubs and artillery companies, will get it back again, and the 10,000 Republican majority in the "Shoestring District" will once more be represented. Mr. Lynch has kept up the fight for Republicanism in Mississippi in spite of great discouragements and in the face of personal danger. Every man who admires pluck and likes to see fair play will be glad to see him back in the House.

PUNISH THE WHOLE GANG.

[From the Albany Journal.]

Evidence is accumulating, and it is so direct and circumstantial that it leaves but little doubt in the mind of any impartial person that this Morey letter was not only a "put up job," but it was put up with the knowledge of the responsible managers of the Democratic party. Its appearance was timed to do its work at the right places at the right moment. It would have been impossible to have used it with the skill it was used upon the spur of the moment. The whole thing had been carefully thought out by the conspirators before the forgery was published; just as we trust the whole truth will be brought out by the officers of the law, so that the whole gang of scoundrels who participated in the crime shall be dragged into the light and duly punished.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

In pursuance of the desire we have manifested throughout the discussion of the gubernatorial election to fairly present all sides of the argument and especially to give the public the benefit of professional views upon the legal points involved, we have obtained the permission of Harvey D. Hadlock, Esq., of Bucksport, to publish the following text of an opinion drawn by him a fortnight ago at the request of prominent citizens:

MR. HADLOCK'S OPINION.

My opinion has been requested as to what, if any, effect the Constitutional amendment submitted to the inhabitants of the State and voted for by a majority of all those who voted on the question of amendment, on the second Monday of September last, has upon the Gubernatorial vote of the State cast on said second Monday of said September.

I assume that the municipal officers of the several cities, towns and plantations in the State submitted the question of amendment in manner and form as provided in chapter 160 of the Resolves of 1880; and that the Governor and Council opened, examined and counted the vote as provided in said chapter; and that it appeared that a majority of the votes cast and returned on said question was in favor of said amendment.

It is provided that the Constitution of the State can be amended whenever two-thirds of both houses of the Legislature propose amendments to the Constitution, and said proposed amendments are agreed upon, and a resolution passed and sent to municipal officers of the several cities, towns and plantations in the State empowering and directing them to notify the inhabitants of their respective cities, towns and plantations in the manner prescribed by law, at their next annual meeting in the month of September, to give in their votes on the question of amendment, and if it appears that a majority of the inhabitants voting on the question are in favor of such amendment it shall become part of the Constitution.—Constitution of Maine Art. 10 § 2.

A majority of the inhabitants who voted on the question of amendment having voted in favor of its adoption, it became a part of the Constitution of the State, when the result of the vote had been determined as provided in c. 160 of the Resolves of 1880.

And from the time when the Governor and Council, immediately after the expiration of thirty days from the day of election, opened, examined, and counted the votes cast and returned on the question of the amendment to the Constitution, said amendment became a part of the supreme law of the State.

By the adoption of the amendment § 3 of Art. 5 of the Constitution has been changed by striking out the word majority wherever it occurred therein, and inserting in the place thereof the word plurality, so that said § 3 of Art. 5, now reads:

"The meetings for election of Governor shall be notified, held and regulated, and votes shall be received, sorted, counted, declared and recorded in the same manner as those of Senators and Representatives. They shall be sealed and returned into the the Secretary's office in the same manner and at the same time as those for Senators.

And the Secretary of State for the time being shall, on the first Wednesday of January then next ensuing, lay the lists before the Senate and House of Representatives, and, also the lists of votes of citizens in the military service returned into the Secretary's office, to be by them examined, and in case of a choice by a plurality of all the votes returned they shall declare and publish the same.

"But if no person shall have a plurality of votes, the House of Representatives shall by ballot from the persons having the four highest number of votes on the lists, if so many there be, elect two persons, and make return of their names to the Senate, of whom the Senate shall by ballot elect one who shall be declared the Governor."

The Senate and House of Representatives before whom the lists returned from the election held on the second Monday of September shall be ascertained, and the people of this State had an undoubted right to declare by the amendment voted for on the second Monday of September last how the Gubernatorial vote then cast should be determined by the next Legislature of the State of Maine.

The third section of Article 10, of the Constitution of Maine, relates to the codification of the Constitution and the amendments proposed by chap. 93, of the Resolves of 1875, and has no effect upon the amendment proposed by chap. 160, of the Resolves of 1880; as it relates strictly to the arrangement of the Constitution together with the amendments proposed by c. 98, of the Resolves of 1875.

The validity of a Constitutional amendment does not depend upon its arrangement.

I am of the opinion that the amendment to the Constitution proposed by the Legislature of 1880, and adopted in September last by the inhabitants of this State, is now a part of the Constitution of the State of Maine, and that the Senate and House of Representatives that shall be organized on the first Wednesday of January next, must be guided in determining the choice of the people of the State of Maine for Governor, by § 3 of art. 5, of the Constitution of Maine as amended.

H. D. HADLOCK.

Nov. 15, 1880.

THE NATIONAL CENSUS. The Boston Journal's special says: General Walker, Superintendent of the Census, stated some weeks ago that he thought it probable that he would be able to complete the census so as to send to Congress at this session the information necessary to be used as a basis of reapportionment, but he is not now sure that he will be able to fulfill his promise, as the census work is of such vast magnitude, and so many new and unexpected difficulties have arisen, that it is probable the work cannot be completed until near the end of the session. Those who are familiar with the details of the work say that it is not probable that the results can be sent to Congress before February. The work of the office is now mainly devoted to ascertaining the aggregate population of the United States, which it is said will fully reach 50,000,000.

Maine Republicans ought to be at least as honest as Indiana Democrats.—Portland Press.

The Press does not set a very high standard for its own party. Some of our friends who seem so constantly anxious to assure the public that they are not as other "republicans and sinners," remind us of the Southern slave-holding chivalry, of whom Bob Ingersoll says they were not satisfied to be judged by their fruits and to let the world quietly recognize their Caucasian superiority, but wanted Congress to pass resolutions every few months to certify that no white man is better than a nigger.

THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS, TO VOTE TO-DAY. To-day being the first Wednesday of December the Presidential Electors in all the States will meet as provided by the laws of the States and cast the Electoral votes for President and Vice-President. In this State the Electors meet at the State Capitol to ballot and make out the electoral certificates.

The vote for the prohibitory party ticket in Maine at the recent election was only 5 in a total vote of about 144,000, of which not less than 100,000 are prohibitionists. This is a very decided indication that the prohibitionists of Maine don't see the necessity for another party in this State. It would be impossible to reach a clearer unanimity on any question.—Lewiston Journal.

THE DEMOCRATS GIVE UP THE HOUSE. The Washington correspondent of the Boston Journal says: The confirmation of the report that Ford, the Greenbacker, is to receive the certificate in the Ninth Missouri District, has destroyed all hope which the Democrats have entertained of securing control of the next House. To-day the Democratic clerks at the Capitol acknowledged that it would be useless for them to attempt to retain the House. They will now use every effort to prevent an extra session of the next Congress, in order that they may continue their salaries until December.

The presence of ex-Gov. Sprague of Rhode Island, in Washington gave currency to the rumor that he contemplates bringing a divorce suit there against Mrs. Sprague. The sensational story started the rumor that a duel was in contemplation between Mr. Sprague and Senator Conkling, but the severity of the story was shown by the fact that Senator Conkling was not there and not expected for some days. Mr. Sprague himself said he came only for the purpose of attending to private business.

The Natchez, (Miss.) Democrat of the 24th inst. contains the following serious statement concerning the health of one of the Senators of that State: "Some of Senator Lamar's friends doubt very much if that distinguished gentleman will ever be able to reoccupy his seat in the Senate or participate in its proceedings. He went into the late canvass in opposition to the wishes of his advisers, and delivered several speeches in a sitting position, being unable to stand through weakness resulting from his debilitated condition. Since the election he is worse, and it is thought to be not improbable that he may be taken down at any moment with his lastillness."

The entente cordiale ought to be secure now along the Rio Grande, with General Ord commanding the United States troops on this side and his son-in-law, General Trevino, commanding the Mexican forces on the other.

The trial in the Morey letter rascality, are all said to lead toward H. H. Hadley, the person who obtained a letter from Gen. Garfield early in the campaign on the pretence that, as a civil service reformer, he wished some doubts settled. It is reported that it has been discovered that the envelope that was used in the Morey letter was probably one which had been addressed to the editor of Truth, as the initials, as disclosed by the microscope, are the same.

United States Election Commissioner John R. Davenport, who has been in Washington seeking new evidence in the matter of the Morey letter, has obtained some important information relative to Democratic frauds prior to the last campaign. He has never abandoned the search for the 80,000 fraudulent naturalization papers issued by the Democrats in New York in 1868 under the Tilden-Tweed auspices. Davenport is said to have now obtained positive proofs of the disposition of 24,000 of these fraudulent papers. One lot of five thousand is said to have been sold for a dollar apiece to a member of a former Democratic National Committee for use in Connecticut. Davenport is now said to be able to produce the witness who negotiated the sale, and will soon make his discovery public.

The irony of fate: A Chinaman has opened a laundry in the rooms recently occupied by the Democratic headquarters in Cleveland, Ohio.

A despatch from St. Louis says the corner in corn which involved 2,000,000 bushels and netted a profit of $125,000 was closed yesterday.

A New York despatch says that a joint indictment has been found against all the steamboat inspectors, heretofore indicted, that they may all be tried together.

CHATHAM, Mass., Nov. 30. The schooner Fleetwing, of Rockland, Me., with a cargo of moulding sand struck on the bars, but came off leaking badly. She was supplied with one man and proceeded.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Sad Accident to a Life Saving Crew.

PROVINCETOWN, Nov. 30. Last night three of the crew of Life Saving Station No. 7 lost their lives. A coal laden schooner ran ashore near the station and while the crew were attempting to go on board their boat capsized and Capt. D. H. Atkins, Elisha N. Taylor and Frank Mayo, all of Provincetown, were drowned. The cause of the capsizing of the life saving boat was on account of its being struck by the main boom of the sloop C. F. Trumbull, (the name of the vessel ashore) of Rockport, Mass. They had boarded the sloop and taken three of her crew ashore and were capsized on returning for the remainder. Three others of the life saving crew swam ashore in an exhausted condition. The sloop has since drifted away with her captain and pilot aboard.

The Electoral College.

BOSTON, Nov. 30. The Electors College organized to-day with Paul A. Chadbourne as President, and C. Lovering, of Taunton, as Secretary. They adjourned till noon to-morrow.

COLORADO.

Chinese Troubles.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. A Denver special says that Col. Bee, Chinese Consul at San Francisco, is in Denver, under instructions of the Chinese Government investigating the recent riot against Chinamen there. An estimate of the losses by the Chinese has been made and the Chinese Government will demand reparation for the loss of life and property.

The Shooting of Gov. Robinson Proven to have been Accidental.

DENVER, Nov. 30. That the shooting of Gov. Robinson was accidental is now evident from the post mortem. There had been a disagreement with the miners for a few days which caused the belief that the first report of the riot and assassination was true. It is now known, however, that there was nothing of this nature connected with the affair, and the miners deeply regret the sad result of the terrible mistake of the guard. Gov. Robinson's remains lie in state at Leadville to-morrow, at Denver Wednesday, and will then be taken to his former home in Michigan for burial.

The Utes.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. It is stated that the Ute commission left Denver quietly Saturday night, to proceed to Los Pinos to pay the Uncompangre Utes their portion of the $75,000 due them by the late settlement. According to the appropriation they will receive $37,000.

Official Returns.

DENVER, Nov. 30. The official returns give the Garfield electors an average majority of 3900. Pitkin the Republican candidate for Governor, over 5000 majority, leading the rest of the State ticket about 2,300. Total vote about 54,000.

PENNSYLVANIA.

WASHINGTON.

The Tenth Census.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. Gen. Walker, Superintendent of the Census, has submitted his regular annual report. He says that although the work of taking the tenth census is substantially complete, returns having been received from all but seven of the 312,265 enumeration districts, it will probably be two or three weeks before complete statistics of the population of the country can be presented, and he therefore considers it advisable to postpone to a future report all mention of the results of the enumeration, and all discussion of the methods in use, as well as any suggestions which may require changes to be made in the census law, with reference to future enumerations. During December tables will be submitted showing the population of each State and county in the United States, distinguished as native or foreign, white or colored, male or female. Superintendent Walker earnestly expresses the opinion that the compilation and publication of all the various classes of statistics, should be pushed forward with the utmost expedition; and to secure this he recommends that the reports be printed by special contract, as soon as they are ready.

All the returns within the Department of the Census, it is believed will be in possession of this office during the present month, when the compilation of manufacturing statistics will be pushed rapidly forward. There is no reason to doubt that the month of December will see all the enumerators paid, except where suspension is required for some fault on the part of the enumerator himself.

Precautionary Measures.

The Secretary of the Treasury has issued a circular giving instructions to the collectors and other chief officers of customs, in relation to the numbers of licenses issued to steam vessels, which will prevent a false entry of figures, such as was made by the clerk to the local inspectors at New York who embezzled $6000.

Slight Fire.

Fire broke out last night in the barber shop of the House of Representatives and destroyed the furniture and did considerable injury to the walls and ceilings.

THE STEAMER SIMCOE.

The History of her Loss as Reported by the Survivors.

OWEN SOUND, Ontario, Nov. 30. The steamer Manitoulin, which arrived to-night, brought the chief mate, first engineer, wheelman, fireman and a cook hand of the steamer Simcoe, which foundered on the 24th inst. The Simcoe left Chicago Nov. 18th and experienced continued severe gales on Lake Michigan, accompanied by heavy snow storms, which she weathered. Early on the morning of the 24th, while on the south side of Manitoulin Island, the sea broke over her so heavily that it broke through the engine room putting out the fires. The ship became completely unmanageable, and remained in the trough of the sea taking water until noon, when she sank. The five survivors succeeded in getting into a life-boat and made unsuccessful attempts to save some of the others. When the hull went down the rest of the crew, with the captain, second mate and two women, numbering twelve in all, were standing forward and made no apparent effort to save themselves. Those in the life-boat then made for Providence Bay and took the steamer Manitoulin for this port.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

A Brilliant Shower of Meteors.

PORTSMOUTH, Nov. 30. Just before one o'clock Sunday morning there was a brilliant and long continued shower of meteors rivalling anything ever seen in this vicinity. The meteors were of varied size, and in color ranged from a delicate crimson to a rich intense gold. They fell in rapid succession, probably 400 falling in the space of eight minutes, and many of them burst, leaving gorgeous trains of colored light lasting several seconds. Similar reports come in from Rye, Greenland and Hampton.

A Disastrous Conflagration.

PORTLAND, Nov. 30. A special to the Advertiser says: At about 1 30 this morning fire was discovered in the Wentworth block at Rochester, N. H. An alarm was sounded and the fire department was speedily at work, with their hand engine and the hydrant from the factory. But the fire had gained great headway and their efforts were powerless to check it until the block and the adjoining houses, containing the Rochester National Bank and Harrison's drug store were a heap of ruins. The Wentworth block was a three story wooden building. The fire originated in the store of Fifield, a clothier. The other stores in the block were occupied by Osgood jeweler, Mrs. Hayes, millinery, and Chas. Howe, druggist, formerly of Portland. These all went and very few of the contents were saved; the stores were all carrying heavy stocks. Next was the Savings Bank, a two story brick building occupied in the second story by the town officers, the town papers and records were all lost. The bank effects were in a fire proof safe and are supposed to be unharmed. Hanson's drug store was a three story brick building. It was only by the most strenuous efforts that the fire department saved the Methodist church, post office and the office of the Rochester Courier. The whole square was at one time in the greatest danger. The fire broke out again at 4 30 and another alarm was sounded, but the fire was soon subdued. There is great excitement in the village and no reliable estimate of the losses are yet made. The total loss will probably not fall much short of $50,000.

Tammany's Feeble "Fraud" Cry.

An address issued by Tammany Hall tonight states that the sub-committee appointed to investigate the frauds, etc., at the recent election are in possess on of evidence which clearly demonstrates that the Republican vote was enormously increased by systematic colonization, unblushing bribery and the most cowardly intimidation of workingmen by employers. The address invites all who are cognizant of frauds to communicate them at once to the committee.

MONTPELIER, Nov. 30. Mrs. Meeker was to-day found guilty of murder in the first degree. Her counsel will take the cause to the Supreme Court on exceptions. When she understood the verdict she broke completely down, sobbing and wailing. While Mrs. Meeker was in court the jailor found a letter to her daughter which read as follows: "Nellie, you get me some powder and throw it upon the shed where I can reach out a stick. Don't you fail in doing it. Help me in some way. Get me some medicine too. If I had an iron bar I could get out of here." Quite a quantity of matches were also found probably supplied by her daughter. Almon will undoubted receive his sentence to-morrow.

CAR OFF THE TRACK. Yesterday morning as the St. John train was backing over to the Maine Central depot, one of the cars left the rails. The accident was caused by the frost throwing a switch so that the rails were not exactly in place. The train was of course moving very slowly, and no damage whatever was done to the train. The accident caused some delay and the train was about forty minutes late out of this city.

THE FIRST PASSENGER CAR FOR THE GRAND SOUTHERN. An accommodation car designed and constructed by Mr. J. R. McCabe, will be added to the daily construction train, on the Grand Southern. Quite an amount of passenger traffic is already being done over this road, chiefly through parties living along the line. Hitherto these have had to content themselves with riding on the flat cars or engine.

Monday one hundred and twenty-men went over the Bangor & Piscataquis Railroad, fifty going up as far as Milo, and seventy to Blanchard where they took coaches for Greenville. Passenger and freight will be transported over the railroad free of charge.

FIREMEN'S DOG. Last evening the members of the Union Hose Company received from the Rockland fire department, a cabinet picture of the dog "Charlie," a very knowing brute that attends all the fires in that city. When the Union Hose boys visited Rock and last summer, they were so well pleased with the dog, that they forwarded a handsome collar for him on there return home. The dog is a large intelligent looking animal, entirely white with the exception of one side of his head, which is jet black. The boys have purchased a pretty new yet frame and will have the picture on exhibition in J. H. Babb & Co.'s window to-day.

A KIND ACT. Among the passengers that arrived in this city last evening on the Maine Central train, was a lady accompanied by a small child, bound for St. John. It seems that the lady had been West after her sister's child, and was on her way home, thinking that she could go right through last night. She had tickets for a through passage, but was entirely out of funds, and when she found that it would be necessary to remain in this city over night, where she was a total stranger, she was at a loss to know where she should obtain lodgings. In the meantime, however, Conductor Anderson had learned the particulars of the case, and with his accustomed thoughtfulness, immediately started through the train and collected from willing contributors five dollars for the lady which enabled her to pass the night at the Bangor House.

A RUNAWAY. A boy giving the name of William Waters, told the clerk at Perry's Hotel, Portland, Saturday, he was from Bangor and wanted a lodging, and that his family would be there in a day or two. The boy was sent to the police station and put in the lodging room. He escaped through the window, but was captured when trying to take the Pullman train for Boston Monday morning. The boy was in this city a week ago, when he told about the same story, only he claimed that he came from St. John. He sported a silver watch and chain, which he said he obtained by the way of a trade, and seemed to have some money, as he was an enthusiastic admirer of Buffalo Bill, during his recent performance in this city, on which occasion the boy occupied a front seat in the ball. He went from here to Lewiston, then to Portland, and finally turned up in this city again last night. He went to the Bangor House where Landlord Beal kindly permitted him to pass the night, and says that he wants to return to his home in St. John, this morning. The boy is bright as a dollar and with proper training would make his mark.

Frost, Charles Orr, Arthur Fowle, Charles Vincent, and — Gear, substitute. Herald—Thomas D. Parker (captain), C. E. Danforth, S. J. Byrne, J. B. Gomez, Thomas F. Keenan, and G. H. Morgan, substitute.

IMPROVEMENT IN TROTTING HORSES. The increase in speed of trotting horses in the last few years has been quite rapid. Twenty years ago a horse that could make the time of an ordinary trotter now was considered a wonderfully fast horse. It was in 1859 that Flora Temple first trotted down in the teens, scoring 2.19¾, and so wonderful was this time considered that the correct measurement of the track was seriously questioned. It was not, however, until 1867, when Dexter made 2.17¼, that the record was beaten. Four years elapsed before Goldsmith Maid, in 1871, lowered the time to 2.17. In 1872 the same gallant mare chipped of another quarter of a second, while in 1874 she lowered it successfully to 2.16, 2.15¾, 2.14¾ and 2.14, but at this time none but she could beat herself. Four years later, in 1878, Rarus wrested the honors from the Maid, trotting in 2.13¼, but his crown was snatched from him by St. Julien in the fall of 1879, when he trotted in 2.12. St. Julien during the present season lowered the record with Maud S. to 2.10. Again the former beat the double performance and trotted at Hartford in 2.11. Maud S. then closed the season by beating all records and trotting in 2.10¾.

FOR THE LADIES. The Quaker dress, fashioned in America, is now adopted in Paris. New Marguerite breakfast caps are made of silk plush, and trimmed with sanguedoc lace, and bows of satin ribbon. Cloth jackets matching the costume, or of cream-colored material, are very stylishly trimmed with plush, which is used for the hood, collar, cuffs and muff. Broad velvet sashes are worn, tied at the left side in a careless knot. They are gaily lined, and finished on the ends by shirring and tassels; sometimes one end is left plain. The richest and most effective hoods are of black velvet or silk, densely covered with sparkling jet ornaments and appliques, and finished at the point of the hood in the back with handsome jet cords and pendants. It is stated that French silk has become so inferior in quality, and American silk so superior, that many ladies in Paris have a ready sent to America for black silk, designing of finding ever again a really good and desirable silk in the Parisian market. Walking dresses of cloth are very fashionable, and as the weather becomes colder they increase in popularity. Very stylish and elegantly fitting polonaises are also made of this material, and draped over underskirts of plush or velvet. Many of the new overdresses are untrimmed; some are trimmed with extra wide bands of fur or plush. A few of the earliest importations of costumes of cloth were heavily trimmed, but there seems to be a reaction setting in, and plain unadorned slightly draped dresses are considered the most distinguished looking.

The report that Dr. Torsey had resigned his place as the honored head of the Maine Wesleyan Seminary at Kent's Hill, fortunately proves to be untrue. He will remain in the position which he has so long and so honorably filled.

FROM ORONO.

The Public Schools.

A correspondent writes from Orono: Our public schools will commence on Monday next for the winter term. The High School will be under charge of Mr. S. H. Powell, who has been the Principal for more than ten years past, and he will have for his assistant Miss Laura R. Andrews, a graduate of the Normal School at Castine, and during the past year one of the teachers in that school. She comes here very highly recommended for her skill and efficiency as a teacher. Mr. C. W. Gibbs, of Glenburn, will have charge of the Select School, where he has been for the past two terms.

The teachers of the Primary and Intermediate schools have been assigned as follows: That on the Bangor road, known as the Page District, to Mr. George Sutton, a member of one of the classes of the State College; that on Main street, to Miss M. A. Powers; the Mill street schools to Mr. A. J. Durgin and Miss Ellen Libbey; those at the Basin Mills to Mr. J. C. Wilson and Miss L. B. Ring; that on the Island side, so called, to Mr. Herbert Webster, a graduate of the State College; that on the Bog road, so called, to Mr. J. H. Cain, also of the College; and that in the western part of the town to Miss A. Ice Wise.

The additional school in the Mill street building is established to meet the wants of a large class of scholars who cannot be otherwise accommodated, without too much crowding of the older pupils of that vicinity. These two schools like those at the Basin Mills, will be made up as follows: First, all the second, third and fourth reader scholars, who live in the vicinity and are not members of some other school and do not belong elsewhere; and second, of all scholars of ten years and over who have not attended any school the past season, without regard to qualifications. In this way the Committee determine to keep up the present grade of the schools and hope to accommodate all scholars who may desire to attend. Books are furnished by the town for the free use of the scholars, as has been the rule for several years past. In their notice of the commencement of the winter schools the Committee say, "We hope all large scholars not otherwise engaged will attend one of the schools during the whole Winter term."

FEEBLE LADIES.

Those languid, tiresome sensations, causing you to feel scarcely able to be on your feet; that constant drain that is taking from your system all its elasticity; driving the bloom from your cheeks; that continual strain upon your vital forces, rendering you irritable and fretful, can easily be removed by the use of that marvelous remedy, Hop Bitters. Irregularities and obstructions of your system are relieved at once, which is the special cause of periodical pain is permanently removed. Will you heed this?—Cincinnati Saturday Night.

ONE EXPERIENCE FROM MANY.

I had been sick and miserable so long and had caused my husband so much trouble and expense, no one seemed to know what ails me, that I was completely disheartened and discouraged. In this frame of mind I got a bottle of Hop Bitters and I used them unknown to my family. I soon began to improve and gained so fast that my husband and family thought it strange and unnatural but when I told them what had helped me, they said "Hurrah for Hop Bitters! long may they prosper, for they have made mother well and us happy."—The Mother.—Home Journal.

We clip the following from the Troy, N. Y. Times:

"Letters pour in daily, sometimes by dozens, scores and hundreds, to Dr. David Kennedy of Rondout, N. Y., in grateful acknowledgement of the great benefits received from his "Favorite Remedy." These are all read with care and interest by him, as they frequently illustrate the power of the medicine in some new, and, perhaps, hitherto untested phase of operation. But it is when a sufferer comes miles to tell the story of his deliverance in person, to grasp the doctor by the hand and greet him as a true and valued friend, that the interest in his case deepens and multiplies. d&w2w

BEWARE OF ALCOHOLIC BITTERS.

Thousands have been ruined for life by drinking popular nostrums, the principal ingredient of which was alcohol. Such "bitters" are deceptive in their effects; they cause intoxication and temporary relief, while they foster the drunkard's appetite. Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" contains no alcohol. It does not heat and inflame the blood; it cools and purifies it. Better than this even, it has cured many a raving appetite for drink. It will do you good, not evil, all the days of your life. OUR MANY USES FOR MUCK. Muck is cooling to the soil in summer, and warming in winter; it collects moisture and retains it; it creates the earth, is a reservoir of ammonia and other elements of plant food, not the least of which are its crumbling shells and fragments of petrefaction. Have we cuttings or root-grafts to protect from drouth or frost, we apply muck not fearing to cover them from sight; have we new strawberries from each point of which expect hundreds of new plants, we cover the earth with muck; have we rare grapes or raspberries, from which extraordinary growth is desired, a bushel or more of muck compost is worked in the soil about them; have we quince or dwarf pears, the roots of which forage near home, we mulch with muck; have we an old orchard we wish to newly rejuvenate we apply muck broadcast; have we newly planted trees, we guard against drouth with muck; have we flower beds, or rose hedges, we apply muck; have we manure in the stable or poultry yard, or wastes of the house that might poison the well and spring if buried; have we ashes in the pit, or bone-dust in the bin, by composting with muck we guard against loss of the better parts, and greatly enhance their fertilizing capacity. Fearing my friend J. J. Thomas may charge me with quackery, I hasten to add that I do not prescribe muck under all circumstances and conditions: Our clayey loam, liable to harden after heavy storms, cries out loudly for muck; low soils of different character might be affected I cannot state from experience.—Cor. N. Y. Tribune.

Teacher in Sabbath-school class—"I gave you last Sabbath, 'What is Truth?' How many are ready to answer?" All hands went up, and one, more impulsive than the other's, cried out, "I know!" "Well, James, what is it?" "I asked papa and he said it was a lying newspaper in New York!" The teacher smiled and said simply, "That will do. We will take for the next lesson, 'Who were the Publicans?' 'I know who the Publicans are now!' shouted a little shaver at the further end of the class—"they licked—" "Well, well, said the teacher, impatiently, "you can answer next Sabbath, when the others are ready," hoping devoutly that by that time some other light than the torch light would illumine their understanding.—Boston Transcript.

A clerk in the office of President Ingalls, of the Indianapolis Railroad, got leave of absence from him the other day to go hunting in southern Indiana. He went, but didn't get any game, and when he came back he wrote Mr. Ingalls a polite note, thanking him for his courtesy and begging his acceptance of the accompanying sackage of game as the result of his effort. He gave the note to the porter with a five dollar bill, asking him to buy a dozen quilled prairie chickens, keep the change and give the fowls to Mr. Ingalls. The porter faithfully searched all over the town, but could find no prairie chickens or quail, so he bought a dressed turkey and two cans of oysters, which he left at Mr. Ingalls' house with the note. Mr. Ingalls was more surprised on reading the note than Bill English was on the evening of "Election day, October 12th.

Try them, in some cases they are wonderful. They make or create nerve matter and give power, force and buoyancy to the nerves, and in this way increase mental force, endurance and brilliancy of mind. LETTER CARRIERS.
All letters must be delivered free by carriers when addressed to street and number. People should inform their correspondents of above and have their letters addressed accordingly.
Persons leaving their address at the General Delivery can also have their letters sent, but it is much more convenient to have the street and number on, and they will be delivered earlier than if the office is put to the trouble of assorting them for two deliveries daily, the first trip supplying the interests of their routes.
Collections are made morning and evening in season for important mails.
Holidays excepted, the Money Window will be open for the delivery of letters from 8½ to 9½ A. M., and from 7½ to 8½ P. M. Sundays from 9½ to 9½ A. M.
Any irregularities in the Carriers' department should be reported to the office.

ENVELOPES.
No additional charge will be made for pinning the name and address and requests to return, on the left upper corner of the envelopes furnished by the Post Office Department, samples of which may be seen at the delivery window; when returned to lots of not less than 500.
A request for the return of a letter to the writer, if unclaimed within thirty days, or less, written or printed, with the writer's name, post office and State, name in the left end of the envelope, on the face side, will be complied with.
The public are respectfully recommended to procure Stamped envelopes with printed return request, as it saves much clerical labor in the office, and superiority, that it is now the only recognized reliable remedy.
